Pre 1974 The state's first Forest Practices Act (1946) required reforestation. The current Forest Practices Act, chapter 76.09 RCW, was enacted in 1974, partially amended in 1975, and further amended many times since.					A nine-member Forest Practices Board was formed to adopt rules to protect soils, water, fish, wildlife, and public capital improvements from impacts of timber harvesting.

Class IV-Special Committee Report Identified 14 issues related to forest practices impacts and environmental review. Study groups were set up to determine which issues should be Class IV-Special.	1979				Classic U decision triggered this study. Major issues studied unstable soils, watersheds, fish, slide areas, conversions, rare species, chemicals, parks, archaeological and historic sites.
