IV. USE OF PROPERTY

Describe, in detail, the proposed use of the Property: Scientific research.

Pacific Northwest National Laboratories (PNNL) is developing a Marine Animal Alert System (MAAS) that will be used to prevent harmful interactions between underwater turbines generating power from tidal currents and marine animals of concern, especially the endangered Southern Resident Killer Whale (SRKW). Prototype testing will occur in two (2) phases. This description is for Phase 2.

The proposed use of the property is to conduct a “blind” test of the passive acoustic monitoring components of the preferred prototype design (based on the Sequim Bay Phase 1 tests) in the presence of SRKWS’s to evaluate the ability of the MAAS prototype to detect the presence of approaching killer whales and to satisfy the MAAS performance expectations. Test results will be verified by land-based observers. The deployment will include up to four (4) submerged hydrophones. The devices will be anchored in a diamond-shaped array with approximately 100 m between devices. Cables running ashore from each device will be bundled before transiting the intertidal. A temporary shelter will also be needed on or near the shore for data receiving and processing. It is anticipated that testing will take 5 days within a 3-week work window in early-mid September, 2011.

Is or will the Property be subleased to another party? Yes ☐ No ☒
If yes, submit a copy of the sublease agreement.

What are the current and past uses of the site? The site is currently used as Lime Kiln State Park. Lime Kiln State Park was formerly a site of a lime producing operation. Lime production started in 1860 at quarries on the site. The U.S. Coast Guard also operated a lighthouse starting in 1919 on the site. The site became a state park in 1984.

Do you have any knowledge of contamination of the site by toxic or hazardous substances, or of past uses or practices that might have lead to contamination by such substances? Yes ☐ No ☒
If so, please explain:

Do you know if any fill material has been placed on the property in question? Yes ☐ No ☒
If yes, please explain:

V. IMPROVEMENTS

Physical improvements are structures placed on the land that cannot be removed without damage to the land. Examples of such structures include: pilings, dolphins, piers, wharves, piling-supported buildings, structures built on fill or concrete foundations, buried pipelines and cables, and support structures for bridges.

What physical improvements currently exist on the site? (Photos may be required.) There are several structures on the site, including a lighthouse, visitor center and facilities, and a parking lot.

If there are physical improvements currently on the site, who owns them? Washington State Parks and Recreation

If there are physical improvements currently on the site, describe their condition: Good
Which, if any, of the existing physical improvements will be removed, remodeled, or reconstructed? N/A
