

Teanaway Community Forest

JANUARY 30, 2014

Teanaway Community Forest

The Washington State departments of Natural Resources (DNR) and Fish & Wildlife would like to thank the over 125 citizens who came to the Teanaway Community Forest Kick-Off Meeting in January. A summary of the meeting is available below for those who were unable to attend.

The agencies are now accepting applications through Feb. 14 for the citizen-based Teanaway Community Forest Advisory Committee.

Teanaway Community Forest Advisory Committee

DNR and WDFW are seeking applicants for the Teanaway Community Forest Advisory Committee through February 14.

This is a citizen-based committee that will advise the agencies as they work together to develop a management plan for the forest.

Advisory Committee Commitment

State lawmakers have directed the agencies to complete the management plan by June 30, 2015.

With that deadline in place, advisory committee members will be asked to make a significant time commitment to develop recommendations to the two agencies.

Meetings will begin later this winter and take place in the Kittitas County area.

Other Ways To Contribute

In addition to the advisory committee, there are many ways to participate in developing the Teanaway Community Forest management plan.

These include:

- Subscribe to these Teanaway Community Forest e-newsletter updates
- Attend community meetings to find out more about the planning process and to give your feedback
- Complete the online survey (once released)
- Contact us at Teanaway@dnr.wa.gov

DNR and WDFW will seek significant public input to help develop an inclusive and robust management plan.

Community Kick-Off Meeting Recap

Earlier this month, DNR and WDFW conducted a very successful public meeting at the Teanaway Grange near Cle Elum.

Over 125 people attended the meeting.

Meeting goals

The goal of the meeting was for participants to be able to:
