

Baker to Bellingham Non-Motorized Recreation Planning Committee Charter

AMENDED APRIL 2018: restricted scope to non-motorized recreation

Washington State Department of Natural Resources' mission

In partnership with citizens and governments, DNR provides innovative leadership and expertise to ensure environmental protection, public safety, perpetual funding for schools and communities, and a rich quality of life.

DNR's recreation vision

Provide diverse and high quality recreational opportunities on DNR landscapes that foster community engagement, promote a strong sense of environmental stewardship, and enrich the quality of life in Washington.

Non-Motorized Recreation Planning Committee mission

- To provide insight and input to help DNR make decisions related to non-motorized recreation management.
- To work with the planning team staff to develop draft recreation management recommendations.
- The recommendations must:
 - Pertain only to non-motorized forms of recreation.
 - Recognize that the planning area contains working forests which are part of a larger regional landscape.
 - Be consistent with the purpose and objectives of state forest trust lands.
 - Not adversely impact revenue generation from timber sales, communication sites and leases for state trust beneficiaries and counties.
 - Not adversely impact ecological functions or conservation goals.
 - Not favor any non-motorized recreation user group over another.
 - Coordinate planning with adjacent lands to identify opportunities for connections across a larger planning area.

Non-Motorized Recreation Planning Committee commitments

- Commit to attend and actively participate in all meetings throughout the process, including presenting the committee's recommendations to the public.
- Meet with other interests not directly represented within the committee to share ideas and solicit input.
- Agree to focus on the whole community by representing the interests of non-motorized recreation activities or organization(s) other than your own, in addition to giving input related to your recreational area of interest.
- Agree to use a consensus-based, decision-making process.
- Agree to work within this charter set forth by DNR and the ground rules agreed upon by the group.

- Be creative and forward thinking; while recognizing that the future is uncertain and technology, information, markets, or other situations may develop that provide new opportunities for recreating in the region over time.
